Those wonderful holiday memories

It all started with The Transatlantic Crossing. The comforting Cunard staple with new adventures to uncover every time (including some very special Event Voyages on the calendar).

The Cunard Queens call at iconic cities, tropical islands, they delve further into regions to explore more, and still find ports to stop at for the very first time. We have celebrated a centenary of The World Voyage. Our classic red and black funnels are synonymous around the globe.

We are very proud of our White Star Service. This impeccable attention to detail begins the minute you step on board as you are greeted by your ship's dapper-uniformed bellhops. Your time is then yours to spend exactly as you wish. Collate your postcard-worthy Cunard moments.

Let your Gin & Fizz bar steward concoct your dream serve from playful pairings of your choice – a spicy botanical gin and refreshing elderflower tonic? A chilli as a garnish? No problem.

The pleasing clunk of a croquet mallet can be heard from Queen Elizabeth's Games Deck, the place to be for a friendly game on the vintage-inspired croquet lawn.

For any occasion, the Steakhouse is your restaurant for exquisite prime cuts. Choose from a selection of sharpened knives to enhance your cutlery.

Queen Victoria was the first ship to feature private theatre boxes – you can even watch a Cunard Insights talk, with your cup of tea, in your own den of luxury.

On Queen Anne, a light bulb-adorned tunnel leads to the soft cobalt-blue furnishings of the Bright Lights Society show bar. It feels like an evening out to a secret club (and your name is definitely on the list).

And speaking of secrets, did you know that there are two Queens Grill Suites on Queen Mary 2 that include private glass lifts to the Commodore Club?

“Table for two?”

When our ships travel to certain regions, their alternative dining concepts have their time to shine. Take Nordly for example, where you can reserve your table during voyages to Norway’s fjords. Influenced by foraging in the wild and fishing along the shores, this restaurant’s dishes blend the hearty with delicate layers of flavours. If the Wild Reindeer Pie entrée piques your interest, we say go for it, and may we suggest the Forest Blueberry Brûlée for dessert?

Local recipe must-haves

Our cuisine reflects the destinations we sail to. And with ingredients sourced locally, you will acquire an authentic taste of wherever you may be in the world. We like to have a bit of fun with it too. Spending Christmas on board in Australia? Your senses aren’t deceiving you, that is the smell of sumptuous plump barbecue food sizzling away as we join in our host’s traditions (as well as time-honoured annual festivities all around the ship).

Excursions designed just for you

Our destination experts hand-pick excursions ashore, taking on the challenge to find Cunard signature discoveries. There's a visit to the splendid Palace of Versailles with, naturally, a delicious French restaurant meal within the immaculate gardens. A bear encounter in Alaska's Neets Bay may sound like it's not for the faint-hearted but it's a remarkable opportunity to observe wild bears in their natural habitat.

*There's so much to do on board,
so much to discover*

“Cheers!”

We think our bar menus are rather unique. The Golden Lion serves a trio of Cunard beers, hand-crafted in small batches. Black is the stout of the group, Gold the pilsner and Red the IPA.

In the Commodore Club, the personalities of the seven knighted Commodores from Cunard's history are honoured with their own contemporary cocktails. The 'Over the Top' is a merry nod to Commodore Sir James Charles' showmanship and penchant for extravagant soirées. The 'All Consuming Passion' honours Commodore Sir Ivan Thompson's devotion to Liverpool Football Club, notably his insistence that the latest football scores be telegraphed and delivered to the bridge every Sunday.

The quintessential fluffy scone

At 3:00pm, it's your daily treat, the bright white gloves reach for the teapots, the miniature jam pot lids conduct their subtle yet assertive pops, and the gold from the Afternoon Tea menus glisten under the Queens Room's chandeliers. It's that lovely bit of decadence courtesy of an apple pie tart and a Battenberg slice, as a harpist provides an impeccable musical backdrop.

There are opportunities everywhere

Where will your explorations take you? You'll notice a passion for art all around the ship. You could join in with one of our watercolour classes on a sea day, just think of the arresting seascapes in your view to inspire you. If you like to shop, browse gorgeous silks, including a limited-edition Cunard x Liberty scarf, at the only ocean-based Liberty stores.

A fabulous touch of glamour, always a bit of sparkle

Your evening's invitation

The excitement of Gala Evenings can be felt throughout the ship. Your first clue is the change of the floral display in the Grand Lobby that almost magically appears in the morning, encompassing the night's theme. Today you could pamper yourself with a bespoke Gala Evening beauty or salon session.

Alaska's Ice White Ball is swathed in pearly and silvery hues. Masquerade is our take on the Venetian Masquerade Carnivals, where masks from the modest to embellished take to the dancefloor. Red & Gold's rich warm theme is regal in feel and a homage to Cunard's heritage.

Welcome to Cunard Showcases

This is a must for theatre lovers, an ever-growing calendar of productions that is setting the bar for entertainment at sea. Picture jaw-dropping towering acrobats, or The Best Exotic Marigold Hotel, even an immersive murder mystery dining experience. This is a new era for Cunard theatre and its future is exciting.

A world-class partnership

Actors from the Royal Shakespeare Company spend seasons on board Queen Mary 2 enchanting guests with their stage productions and behind-the-scenes knowledge. Workshops are a delight; you may realise a talent for playwriting. And in the evenings, meet the actors for Shakespeare Tales, their intimate and informal performances of their favourite pieces.

As the door opens to your suite...

It's those extra touches – the velour robes, daily fresh fruit, speciality coffee machine, the tempting pillow menu to choose from – that complement your spacious suite and roomy balcony perfectly. Chocolates and a chilled bottle of bubbly are there to welcome you (as is your butler in a Queens Grills Suite, not forgetting your own complimentary bar). Even soft cushioned loungers await on the private Grills Terrace for calming sea days in the sun.

Those 'wow' moments

Pre-dinner cocktails and some moreish canapés in the Grills Lounge are a superb way to start your evening. Dining in your Grill restaurant is the main event, the finest culinary occasion. Everything is prepared exactly as you like it with finishing touches being made to your dishes directly at the table (a vivacious flambé is ever the crowd pleaser). Let us make your Grills holiday utterly joyful and effortless.
